STOCK PRICES IMPROVE SOME.

Trading Was More Active but in The Cheaper Stocks.

STAR CON. WAS THE FEATURE | FIRST WEEK IN SEPTEMBER

Yankee and Century Were Much Stronger and California Was Steady at 16 Cents.

The mining share market was considerably livelier than usual this morning and much disappointment was felt when the totals revealed the fact that in transactions involving over 40,000 shares, only $12,918 was called into play. The cheaper stocks were the more traded in and the present condition of the mining share market is by no means satisfactory. There is no doubt that just so long as monthly or quarterly financial and physical statements are not made to the governing board or listing committee by the mining companies whose stocks are traded in on the exchange, the mining share market will continue a freakish career, On no other exchange in the world do stocks advance on bad reports, lawsuits and foreclosure proceedings and decline on news that desirable deals are pending, earnings are on the increase or that things of a nature to enhance the value of a property have or will occur. The local market is easily manipulated and as a consequence could not be in a more unhealthy and undesirable condition than et present.

For over six months the market has been practically dead so far as outside interest and trading was concerned and instead of increasing in power and be-ing of benefit to the mining interests of the state it has been quite the re-

This morning interest centered in May Day which was steady between 24 and 25; in Uncle Sam, which advanced a cent during the call; in Yan-kee, which traded at much better fig-ures; and in Star Con., which traded at 37, and then proceeded to sink until 32 was reached on news that three cars of rich gold ore had already been taken out of the find made a few days

ments is now exerting every effort in planning for the comfort and pleasure of the delegates and visitors who are

The object of the congress is to en-courage the growth and development of the mining industry by working in harmony for such national legislation

as will promote its best interests.

The congress has for a particular object the establishment of a special department of mining in the national government represented by a secretary in the cabinet of the president.

It is carnes ly requested by the ex-mining men be appointed delegates to the congress and that all interested in the industry, that can do so, be present
